

We're pleased to share that OUP's academic books have joined our journals on the Oxford Academic platform, allowing users to read and cross-search content on the same platform for the first time.

This guide will outline navigating books content, online product pages, and journals content, as well as our partner press pages and informational pages. A » video demonstration is also available to view.

WORKING WITH SEARCH RESULTS

1 Results are sorted by relevance by default.

2 Each result has an availability marker and is labelled as a book, chapter, image, etc.

3 Search modifications may be made using the left-hand panel. The search term may be edited, additional filters may be applied, and the search may be narrowed by availability, online product collection, edition, format, subject, series, publication date/range, and more.

NAVIGATING CONTENT

- 1 Clicking into the content will show the book or chapter with options to download as a PDF, split screen, view citation and permissions, and share.
- 2 Split view provides two independently scrolling panels: the left for the primary text, and the right to easily switch between contents, tables and figures, references, notes, and related material.
- 3 Within figures and tables, options are available to open the image in a new tab or download as a PowerPoint slide.
- 4 The dropdown next to the search bar has options to narrow a search scope to various options, including the specific book you're looking at, the online product that book is part of (if applicable), or the subject(s) that book is tagged with.

HOW CAN USERS FIND TITLES FROM PARTNER PASSES?

1 Returning to the books homepage, scroll down past the online products section to see a complete list of our partner presses. Each partner press has its own homepage that highlights new and featured content from that publisher.

The screenshot shows the 'Chicago Scholarship Online' website. At the top, there are navigation tabs for 'Journals' and 'Books'. Below this is a 'Subject' dropdown menu with a list of categories: Arts and Humanities, Law, Medicine and Health, Science and Mathematics, and Social Sciences. The 'Social Sciences' category is highlighted. Below the subject menu, there is a 'Browse all content' button and a 'Browse content in Social Sciences' button. The 'Social Sciences' dropdown menu is open, showing sub-categories: Anthropology, Business and Management, Criminology and Criminal Justice, Economics, Education, Interdisciplinary Studies, Politics, Regional and Area Studies, and Sociology. A search bar is visible at the top right, and a 'Book title lists' section is on the left.

- 1 When browsing by subject, the subject taxonomy will continue to narrow based on your selections;
- 2 or you can choose to browse across a larger category at the bottom of the menu.
- 3 The search bar is set to that publisher's content by default.

WORKING WITH SEARCH RESULTS

Once a subject is selected and a user is browsing the content, they can apply the same filters to navigate the results as described on page 2.

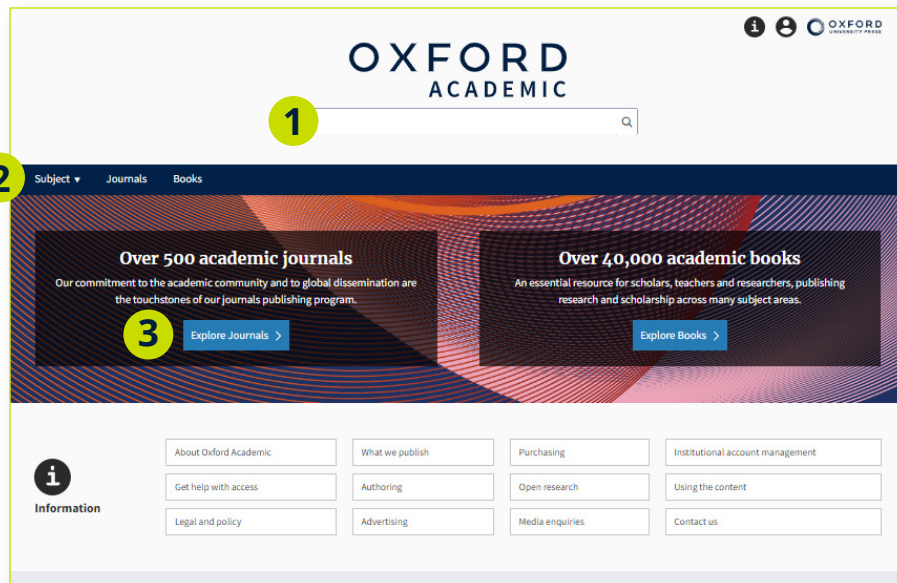

The screenshot shows search results on the 'Chicago Scholarship Online' website. The search criteria are: Format: Book, Subject: Environmental Science. The results show 1-7 of 7 items. The first result is 'Our Oldest Task: Making Sense of Our Place in Nature' by Eric T. Freyfogle, published on 28 August 2017. The search filters are: Availability: Purchased (7), Format: Book (7), Book Part (11). The search is performed in 'Oxford Academic'.

WHERE CAN USERS LEARN MORE ABOUT THE PLATFORM?

The screenshot shows the 'Books' section of the Oxford Academic website. At the top right, there is an 'i' icon in a circle, labeled '1'. Below the navigation bar, there are several featured articles: 'Over 40,000 academic books', 'Open Access', 'Celebrating SHAPE', and 'COVID-19 information hub'. A central navigation menu is highlighted with a red circle and labeled '2'. This menu includes links such as 'About Oxford Academic', 'What we publish', 'Purchasing', 'Institutional account management', 'Get help with access', 'Authoring', 'Open research', 'Using the content', 'Legal and policy', 'Advertising', 'Media enquiries', and 'Contact us'. Below the menu, there are three featured content blocks: 'Oxford Scholarship Online', 'Very Short Introductions', and 'Oxford Handbooks Online'.

Updated and consolidated information pages include details on everything from resources for authors to information about accessibility on the platform to guidelines for open access and read and publish agreements.

Access these pages by clicking either:

- 1 The (i) icon at the top right-hand corner for a comprehensive list; or
- 2 One of the main pages listed further down the page.

NAVIGATING INFORMATION PAGES

Clicking the (i) icon opens the full menu of information pages. Of note for librarians and users:

- 1 Institutional account management: Guidance on how to manage preferences and obtain usage statistics and promotional materials;
- 2 Get help with access: Explains available access options; and
- 3 Using the content: Overview of the platform's core functionality and features.

The screenshot shows the 'Information' page on the Oxford Academic website. At the top right, there is an 'i' icon in a circle, labeled '1'. Below the navigation bar, there is a grid of information pages. The grid includes: 'About Oxford Academic', 'What we publish', 'Purchasing', 'Institutional account management' (with a black heading and a star icon, labeled '1'), 'Get help with access' (with a red circle and labeled '2'), 'Authoring', 'Open research', 'Using the content' (with a red circle and labeled '3'), 'Legal and policy', 'Advertising', 'Media enquiries', and 'Contact us'. The 'Institutional account management' page is highlighted with a red circle and labeled '1'. The 'Get help with access' page is highlighted with a red circle and labeled '2'. The 'Using the content' page is highlighted with a red circle and labeled '3'. The 'Institutional account management' page has a black heading and a star icon, indicating it is a top-level page.

* The black headings are links to top-level pages which help with navigating through the topics that follow.
